

The Philadelphia Soul of the Arena Football League are seeking highly motivated college-level students striving to gain operations/event management experience and position themselves for a career in the Sports Industry upon graduation. This internship will provide much opportunity for creativity and growth, but will require hard work, enthusiasm, and resourcefulness, especially on game days. The position runs from mid-March through the last week in August and its primary focus will be in the Operations Department, specifically in the setup and implementation of game day production and other events.

The Game Operations intern will receive at least 180 hours of work with the Soul, with approximately 100 of those hours being fulfilled on game day and the remaining hours being fulfilled through scheduled times in the Soul front offices or other events.

The job description is as follows:

- Game Day Interns are not paid; you must receive college credit for the internship.
- Game Day Interns are required to work every home game for the Soul.
- Game Day Interns must have reliable transportation to the Soul offices, Wells Fargo Center, and any other events where attendance is mandatory.
- Game Day Interns must act in a professional and responsible manner at all times during Soul hours. They must also always be prompt in arriving at the arena at scheduled times on game day. All Game Day Interns will be required to sign an Intern Rules of Conduct contract with the Soul.
- Game Day Interns will help in the setup of game day events and production. Each game, the intern will have a different responsibility relating to the game operation in the following areas (credential distribution, halftime acts, pre-game elements, promotion team coordination, assisting in game community relations initiatives, assisting with promotional giveaways, etc.)
- Game Day interns will be provided a Soul polo shirt to wear at games and will be provided with a meal during the day of the game.
